Dedication

As senior women of Regis College, we possess the strength, wisdom, and freedom in our souls that our college environment has nurtured in us. Though we say good-bye to the closest friends we've ever made and the greatest teachers we've ever met and been taught by, we can move forward with pride and certainty that tells us we can succeed in this complicated world.

There have been countless women before us who have had to leave the Regis College campus taking a piece of it with them and succeeding wherever they chose to go. And then, there are those women who return to their alma mater and help facilitate the knowledge and spirit that Regis College provides. Among these women was Mary Malany, an English professor whose love of our college and the subject she taught kept her here until her death this past June. The class of 2000 wishes to dedicate our yearbook to Mary Malany, for she embodies the Regis College spirit. She enriched the minds of so many women because she knew the souls she taught were experiencing what she already had experienced and loved.

May we always remember the faces and memories of our friends, and the voices of our teachers. And may we, like Mary Malany, forever nurture all that we have learned and loved.

Grace Milner

Mary Malany

One of Mary Malany's favorite authors, William Butler Yeats, wrote these lines in his poem A Dialogue of Self and Soul:

"We must laugh and we must sing,
We are blest by everything,
Everything we look upon is blessed."

Greetings,

I hope as you look through this yearbook over the years, memories of your experience at Regis College will surface and you will recall those moments that have enriched your life. Time is the measure of change and the reflection on that change often leads us to an understanding of the patterns that we ourselves weave in our own lives. It is the light we bring to those patterns that clarifies for us the fulfillment of our dreams, the realization of our hopes, and the unfolding of the mystery of our lives over time.

As we welcome the year two thousand, we join with others who are reflecting on the "moments" of the twentieth century. Television programs, books, magazines, videos and radio programs are competing for our time to reflect on events, on people, on natural phenomena, and on human discoveries that have shaped this century. Others are concerned with the dramatic moment of change as we turn to the future and confuse our view by stressing the unknown effects caused by Y2K computer programs. Still others are eagerly embracing the future with the hope of progress to solve the problems of poverty, of disease, of prejudice, of famine, and of violence. As we read and listen to the reflections of others, we begin to understand how events that are often out of our control also form the fabric of our lives.

Yet, the reality of this time can be seen more clearly by each of us if we recall that the fabric of the development of human existence is moved forward by the collective development of the individual life of a single person—by you. This is your time. The next century is your century. You are the past and you are the future. It is the fabric of your life that you, and you alone, must shed light upon as you move through time. You must dare to dream, dare to hope, dare to believe in your capabilities, dare to act, and dare to understand that your life has and will unfold within the fabric of God's design for this world.

My prayer for you is that, as you move through this coming century, you will come to understand the sacredness of God's time, and that the light you bring to bear on the fabric of your life will be the light of Faith as you believe in the love God has for you.

Remember you are forever ours, you bear our name, and you will always be in our prayers.

Light Years

Women of the Class of 2000, we give that little extra that makes the ordinary extraordinary. We are an amazing group of women. I am proud to be part of such a loving, dedicated, and spirited group. We prove our strength and determination every day with the energy we invest in classes, internships, student teaching, rehearsals, games, practices, meetings, community service, and even our late night study groups and coffee breaks. We have spent the past four years finding our ways to where we are now. No matter where we have been, or how we have made our individual journeys to Regis, we graduate together as the Class of 2000.

We will all walk away with different strides, and take different roads, but we have had the joy of sharing part of the journey together at Regis. I wish for each one of you to take beautiful memories with you and to cherish every precious moment. I wish for you to take pride in your achievements, to learn from your failures, and to love unconditionally. I wish for you to live with determination and spirit, and to show gratitude to all of the people and powers that led our paths to cross. Our class is made of nearly 200 individuals, but forever we are bonded as the Class of 2000. We step into a new millennium and begin a generation of women who will take the world by storm. Look to the stars and know that we are all reaching together. More importantly, live with passion. Best wishes to each and every one of you.

Ring Ceremony

On October 3, 1998, the Class of 2000 Ring Ceremony was held. This gave juniors the option of getting their class rings blessed, along with cooperatively making a banner to celebrate the occasion. The ceremony was "one of the most beautiful I've ever seen," said Dean of Students, Lynn Tripp Coleman. Students were given an opportunity to participate in the ceremony by lighting candles representing the different aspects of Regis and choosing a theme for the occasion. The banner was two angels holding a sign reading "The Class of 2000." Below, was a drawing of the class ring. The theme was "Angels Among Us." This went along with the song written by Alabama, which played while the class processed onto the stage in the Fine Arts Center. Dr. Ernest Collamati kept the audience captivated with his sermon. He reminded students how much had already been accomplished at Regis, and he gave everyone hope for a prosperous future. Overall, the ceremony was a unique and unforgettable experience, leaving both students and guests in awe over its beauty. Michelle Merlino

Cap and Gown Ceremony

The Cap and Gown Ceremony proved to be an exciting and emotional day for all of the students who participated. The seniors all joined hands to make two giant circles, representing the first graduating class of the millennium. An emotional and heartfelt speech by Lauren Liscombe, class president and recipient of a leadership and service award, had many of the students, faculty and families in tears. The seniors were then vested in their caps and gowns, and blessed with wishes of good luck and hope for the future looming uncertainly before them. The morning concluded with the traditional hoop-rolling contest, as the class kicked off their shoes and tossed their days of hard work down Sister Sheila's front lawn.

Class of 2001

The Junior Class had a very busy year. On October 2, 1999, they received their class rings in a special ceremony held in the Casey Theatre. They were happy to be recognized for their accomplishments. Also this year, juniors took classes that drew them deeper into their majors and minors. Many students still managed to stay involved in many clubs, organizations, jobs, and sports. They decided on career possibilities and internship opportunities. At the end of the year, juniors looked back with great pride. Meg Morrill

Although freshman year is a big transition, sophomore year is a time filled with decisions. During this year they began the process of becoming more focused in their major. Outside of classes, sophomores realized how many extracurricular activities were available. The sophomores were welcomed into Sr. Sheila's house for the traditional dinner. After enjoying a delicious meal, they had to serve one at the Christmas Banquet. They look forward to making more memories over the next two years. Erin Ferris

Class of 2003

On the warm, sunny morning of September 5, 1999, members of the Class of 2003 began moving into their respective dorm rooms. Many students stood in the doorways of their new rooms wondering why the room appeared so much bigger during orientation. Others wrestled mini refrigerators, televisions, and computers up three flights of stairs. After the initial rooms adjustment, and after the inevitable good-byes to parents, this year's freshwomen class began to think about their next four years at Regis. A bulletin board on the second floor of Domitilla Hall is a reflection of their thoughts. When asked to post their goals on the bulletin board, the freshwomen living on the second floor of Domitilla quickly responded. Such goals included "to find the best in everybody and be open-minded," "to be a good student and athlete," and of course, "to be the best." These three phrases aptly describe the Class of 2003.

Field Hockey

We are F - A - M - I - L - Y! Through injuries and a difficult schedule, this year's field hockey team played with heart and soul. They had a difficult season this year, ending the season at 4-14 in all. But in the end, these women became a close family. Many of them played with injuries, working through their pain for the good of the team. Often playing with one less player on the field, these women may not have come out on top, but they finished together. Led by captains AnneMarie Potts and Tina Aldridge, this team united together to give it their all. They came out on top against Anna Maria, Elms College, and Lasell College and just barely, scraping by, beat Framingham State College 2-1 in overtime. Even though the record doesn't show it, this team remains unbeaten in spirit.

Cross Country

"...Bang! Goes the gun and we all start to run. Survival of the fittest, running with the greatest." The 1999 Cross Country team was a superb group of young women who realized that it was never crowded on the extra mile. They won the Mass Maritime invitational, placed third at Regis Invitational, placed third in the Commonwealth Coast Conference, and placed 27th out of 45 teams competing in the New Englands. To say the least, Cross Country ran more than the extra mile. With senior captains Heidi Lippold and Katie O'Connor, these ladies led the way to the extra mile and their results proved their hard work. With Frank Poulin serving as their coach, the team had an amazing season. They realized that life is a course in which you must keep your own pace. They are aware that there are hills and bumpy roads, but oh! what a great feeling to cross the finish line.

Basketball

Captains- Megan Hotchkiss and Jenny Thompson.

Right- She shoots...she scores!

The Regis College basketball team had a whole new look this season. After a first-place finish in the South Division last year, the Pride had nine newcomers on the roster. Graduation claimed first team All Conference players Daisy Harder and Julie Wrobel. Returning to the hard court were senior captains Jen Thompson and Megan Hotchkiss, and second-team all-conference player and leading scorer sophomore Helen Dinan. With that trio leading the way, Regis won six out of its last eight games to finish 10-14 overall and 7-6 in the Commonwealth Coast Conference. Thompson averaged 15.6 points to become the sixth Regis player to break the 1,000-point barrier. Her career total of 1,080 places her third on the all-time scoring list. Hotchkiss averaged 11.1 points and a team-high 6.9 rebounds a game. Dinan, who led the Pride in six categories last season, was the squad's leading scorer once again with a 17.2 average. She helped her scoring average by shooting 86.2 percent from the foul line, and she helped the team by averaging 5.1 rebounds a game. Rounding out the front court were a pair of six-footers, Shannon Nagy and Laura Shewan, and power forward Karrie Barber. Nagy is extremely athletic, runs the floor well and was a key to Regis' passing style. Shewan is a good shooter who also helped on the boards and on defense. Barber was a strong high post shooter who played inside and outside for the Pride. Sophomore Amanda Warren, who missed last season, and newcomer Zoi Lazarakis filled key roles. Rounding out the back court for Regis this season were rookies Dianna Lynch, Renee Sbano, and transfer Erin McIntosh. Head coach Cherise Galasso knew that the Pride's inexperience showed in the first semester. She also realized the players acclimated to the system in the second semester when they came together as a team. "This team is a great group of people who worked hard and kept getting better every day. Their strong work ethic and team chemistry, along with out great senior leadership, helped us find success" said Galasso.

Jenny plans out her scoring strategy.

Soccer

The 1999 soccer season was filled with many exciting games. Ten times throughout the year, the outcome of the game was decided by one goal or less, with three games heading into overtime. A youthful team, the Pride's roster included nine freshmen and two seniors. This inexperience was evident early in the season, but the leadership and tough play of Katie Murphy, Mirna Gereige, and Erin McKenna, along with some outstanding goal keeping, helped Regis find success. Hard work and dedication paid off as Regis won three of its last four games to finish strong. Leading the Pride in points was junior Erin McKenna with six goals and five assists. McKenna ended the season as the Commonwealth Coast Conference Player of the Week. Regis was also led by the strong play of freshman Alison Fiddner and Micheala Ellis who added five and four goals respectively. In net, sophomore Ericka Krul continued to dominate with her aggressive play and freshman Zoi Lazarakis' acrobatic saves were amazing to watch. Lazarakis was named CCC Rookie of the Week for her high-flying performances, as well. In 2000, Regis will have to find a way to replace the skillful Murphy, and the hard-nosed defending of Gereige, but should return a strong nucleus of experienced players and great goal keeping. With the foundation in place, next year's squad expects to compete for the Conference title.

Fast thinking.
Right- Who is going to get the ball?

Are we almost there?
Below- Regis sets up for a pass.

What a save!

Crew

The Regis College crew team had a very successful year both on water and land. We reached aggressive goals including more races all over New England and, of course, rowing in the largest regatta in the world, HEAD OF THE CHARLES! Cheryl Ditscheit and Jessica C. Ambroz, co-captains, have worked hard with their coach, Bill McGowan, toward "promoting academics through athletics." Thank you Regis College for your continued support. Nice job, Ladies!

Jessica Ambroz

Watch out for the bridge!
Right- Can we take a break yet?

Above- Close race.

Early morning practice just might pay off.

Swimming & Diving

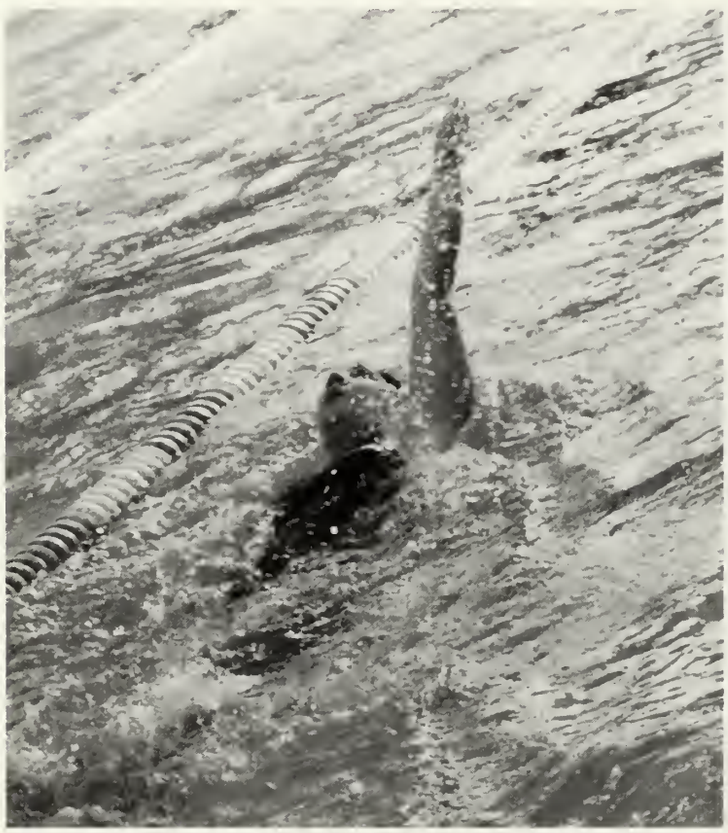
One more lap to go!



Top- I wish I could see where I was going.

Right- Could someone please give me a hand?

I hope that water isn't as cold as it looks...

The swimming and diving team was led by tri-captains Erin Benson, Tracy Forrestall and Tricia Hanley. Other key member of the team are seniors Kristen Gleneck and Mayuko Ito; and underclassmen Carole Boyden, Michelle Cabrera, Alicia Guild, Lauren Kane, Kathleen Roche, and Lindsay Stephenson. In December, six team members made ALL-ECAC at the ECAC Championships which were held in Long Island, New York. They were Erin Benson, Tracy Forrestall, Tricia Hanley, Michele Cabrera, Alicia Guild and Lauren Kane.

Volleyball

Led by senior tri-captains Kelly Doyle, Allyson DiGregory, and Katie Murphy, the Regis volleyball team ended its season with a13-10 record. Highlights for the season include when sophomore Shannon Nagy was named to the Roger Williams All-Tournament Team, and a Commonwealth Coast Conference player of the week. The victories would not have been possible without key plays by junior Courtney McAulay and sophomore Erika Shupe. The team went to the CCC tournament in sixth place out of nine teams. But they pulled together in their conference matches to a huge victory over Eastern Nazarene College (15-8, 15-10, 15-9). This was the first time that Regis had beaten ENC in regular season or tournament play. Regis lost in the semifinals to Gordon College, but they were happy to take home third place after knocking ENC from second place to sixth. Senior tri-captains wish next year's team the best of luck. We may have had some rough times, but we made it through the situps (50!), the pushups, the trips to Cabots, the Chinese food, the mumbles, and the jumping rope. We even managed to be blessed by coaches' dog, Sandy, every once in a while. Thank you for giving us an incredible last game. We got the ribbons, we got their ball, we wore their spandex, we started a war, and WE BEAT ENC!

Allyson Digregory

Tennis

The Regis College tennis team finished its 1999 season with an overall record of 5-11 and Conference record of 3-6. Led by senior captain Julia Mastronardi, two of their big wins were over UMASS Boston and Endicott College. Key points were made by senior Kathy Gonzalez and freshman Jennie Reis, who was named a Commonwealth Coast Conference rookie of the week. They took sixth place out of nine teams at the CCC tournament.

Allyson DiGregory

Top- Erin bundles up for a cold winter day.

Bottom- We got the beat!

Right- Check us out!

Top- The stylish shower girls.

Bottom- "We are the world..."

Top- Cheryl gets wild.

Bottom- Hear ye, hear ye.

Right- Heads up!

Left- What's so funny?

Spring Break / Study Abroad

No matter where you go, it's all about FUN!

The best part of the day- relaxing by the pool!

Caryn and Coreen hide from the hot sun.

Partyin' with Señor Frog.
Right- Kim, Kasey, and Taryn stop for a drink in London.

Left- Just hanging around with Chip and Dale!

Jill and Katie enjoy the sights in Paris.

Lauren Christine

Since September 29, 1977
Our home has known a bit of Heaven
Our days are brighter.
Our hearts are lighter.
Our horizons broader
Our marriage stronger
Our lives are richer
Our home is warmer
Because of you.
And, from what we hear
From year to year,
Others lives are better too.
Through clubs and sports and curtain call,
From Jack and Jill to College Hall
The souls you've met and touched and known
Have learned and healed
And smiled and grown
Because of you. ACL 10/24/99

Thank you, Lauren, for the joy you bring to us.

Love, kisses & bughugs

Mom & Dad

Whether we were playing offensive line, or just being offensive, thanks for staying by our sides.
Congratulations. Lots of love, Hayden & Wyeth

Tracy, first high school, now a college graduate. Time continues to move on, as it does you will continue to grow, but you will always be daddy's little girl.
Congratulations! Love, Dad, Mom, Paul, Nicole, Anthony!

Now is the time to fulfill all your dreams. Welcome to the real world! Love, Mom & Dad

Congratulations Heather
We are very proud of you.
With love, Mom, Dad, Sarah & Olivia

Dear Heidi, Always believe in yourself. Know yourself-- what you can do and what you want to do in life. Set goals and work hard to achieve them. Have fun every day and every way. Be creative -- it is an expression of your feelings. Be sensitive in viewing the world. Believe in the family as a stable and rewarding way of life. Believe in love as the most complete and important emotion possible. Believe that you are an important part of everyone's life that you touch. As you reach for your dreams, may life bring you much happiness and success- you deserve the best. And as all of your tomorrows open themselves to you, never forget how proud we are of you and how much we love you... Yesterday, today and always XXXOOOXXX
Congratulations!!
Mom, Steve, Gram, Todd, Laurie, Jeff, Ben, & Maddie

Congratulations Rachel. We're proud of you. We love you.
Mom & Dad

Kyle: I am extremely proud of all your accomplishments; but, I am especially overjoyed by the beautiful young lady you've become. Love you, Dad

The true joy of life is the "Journey." May you always be filled with an abundance of love and laughter as you continue that journey. You are our joy in life! Love Always, Mom, Dad, Nathaniel, Megan & Patty

Anita,
Papa and I are so proud of you- Keep reaching for the stars! We love you
M & P

Congratulations, Amanda! We are so proud of you and your accomplishments. Don't ever stop loving, Don't ever stop believing in yourself, Don't ever stop dreaming your dreams. We love you, Mom, Dad & Richie

Groton Long Point- those were the days! Congratulations Julia on yet another milestone in your life. You are our shining star and the captain of each and every goal you set out to achieve. The best daughter, a true friend, a devoted sister, and a leader in your Regis community.

Our love, support and prayers are with you. Pride doesn't even begin to describe it.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Mike, Annie & Josie

Megan, we are so proud of you and all you have accomplished. Always remember to be yourself, and you will be loved.
We love you, Mom #1 and Dad

Erin, we are so proud of you.
All Our Love,
Mom, Dad, & Sean

Kristin,
Congratulations on your achievements. You have made us so proud!!! Never stop reaching for the stars. Love,
Mom, Dad, & Allison

Jen, life is an adventure, so do not follow a path. Go where there is no path and begin a trail. Follow your dreams; the world is waiting for you! With Love and Pride- Mom, Dad, Martin

May you take time to hold the flowers. Remember a snow storm is never far away. You only have to ask.
Love,
Mommy & Daddy

Elaina- So many memories filled with pride and love- a sweet, quiet, bright little girl who has become a beautiful, confident young woman. You have always amazed and pleased us with your accomplishments and the way you live your life. Congratulations on your graduation! We wish a precious daughter and loving sister all the happiness the world can offer in the years ahead. Love always, Mom, Dad & Lauren

Heather-
We wish you all the best of luck with your future decisions- we all love you. Mom, Dad, Jaime, Mana, Maggie, Puma, Mih, Tom, Cleo. P.S. The Blues, Sam love you too.

Samia

Julie, we are all very proud of you and we know you are going to have a very successful life. You mean the world to US.
Love,
Tom, Ma, Dad, & Gramma

Laura, how can it be four years since we waited for your call that first night at Regis saying that you wanted to come home! Instead, we watched in awe and admiration as you overcame, achieved, and thrived. We're so proud of you!
"You are our sunshine..."
Unconditional love, Mom, Dad, & Beth

Dear Meghan,
From the day we brought you to Montessori School through your four years at Regis College, we have watched those years come and go and seen how much you've grown. We are so proud of the lovely woman you have become.
Congratulations!
Love Aways and Always,
Mom & Dad

All our love,
Mom, James Sr., Christian, and James Jr.

Dear Paula,

It is with immense pride and joy that we write these words to you during this very special occasion.

In each and every stage of your life, we have watched you successfully overcome different challenges with valor and tenacity. Again today, we celebrate the completion of a very important milestone in your personal and profcssional development. Your character and high-standard values have always been the hallmark of your actions. You are and always have been a dedicated daughter, a loving sister and a wonderful and true friend. You have consistently displayed a great sense of responsibility, commitment, resilience attention to detail and enormous amount of love in everything you do. This has led you to successfully pursue all your objectives no matter how difficult or challenging they might have seemed at the time. You are a very special person. Congratulations. May this day be the first day of a very long, successful and happy professional career. May your life be blessed with health and joy. Mom, Dad and Paul
